PROGRAM - Emily Baxter introduced Jean Harl, Community Relations Director, Girl Scouts of Southwest Indiana.. Founded in Savannah, Georgia, the Girl Scouts is celebrating its 98th birthday this year. Some other information presented to us -

Girl Scouts follow the same by-laws and values today as they did at their founding in 1912.

Leadership development is a primary focus.

All programs are refreshed every few years.

The local Girl Scout Council is no longer the RainTree Council but the Council of Southwest Indiana.

60% of the local Council's income comes from the sale of cookies every year.

Some 13,000 girls belong to the Girl Scouts of Southwest Indiana

Camping is no longer as popular as it use to be but outside activities in general are heavily promoted.

Girl Scouts is open to all religious faiths

DRAWING - "Lucky" Chris Gehlhausen won & graciously returned the cash.

See you next week (I hope).....Dan Korb
