Life is like a Whiffle Ball
It don't necessarily go where you aim it

I was twixt a rock and a hard place.....Workin 24/7.....Tossed under a bus.....Nose to the grindstone.....
Draggin the line.....I seen the elephant.....Ya know what this world needs is some new clichés.

The bell clanged and what should appear at the podium but the Arc De November, none other than Karen Morris who preformed the welcome and called forth Ron Eberhart to pass the good word, but after glancin over the mob I couldn't figger out if it were much needed or just wheel spinnin. What it was, was appreciated.

Karen then took back over a welcomed returnees Chris Gehlhausen and Don Julian. A special welcome to guest Dennis Conwell who dropped by to see what we was all about. Ya'll come back now.

Sunshine Don reported that Gary Burk was ailin a bit but was in attendance and that Emily Baxter was in the hospital. Get well soon, we wanta see you back.

Sarge was next, he collected a lot of loot but blew the trivia question and has some splainin to do if'n he ever shows his red face round here again. I'm demandin some payback or at least satisfaction. Loser has to listen to entire Gilbert and Sullivan operatter

Drawin was won by Chris and donated to the club. Buddies were Ron and JC. Ron had a choice and chose calories over his brain. Emma Lee would be so proud. ...Now to the morally upliftin and back pattin portion of the show.

Today we presented the grants from the Downtown Optimist Foundation. President Ken Dennis, Treasurer Mark Hackert and Karen Morris, the only one who could actually read presided over the distributions. 19 organizations were presented checks which totaled $10,044. Each representative gave an overview of their mission and specifics on the use of the funds presented. Thank you to all members of the Foundation for their service to the club.

In addition to the distribution presented today, the Foundation will also match up to $1000 donations to the Santa Clothes Club and Camp Carson and will donate $500 to the Optimist International Foundation.

Now I gotta head home, Lola May bought herself a Dirt Detective Robot Vacuum an it chased her outta the shack.
